Peter Cosmai has joined Nautilus

COMMACK, NY – December 8, 2008 Nautilus Consulting is pleased to announce that Peter Cosmai has joined the firm, where he has undertaken the duties of Senior Project Manager. With more than 18 years of construction experience, Peter has honed his ability to analyze project documentation to determine entitlement & responsibility for project delay and its resultant impact on cost and schedule. As a result of his analysis, Peter regularly offers guidance to clients on what actions to consider in order to improve their position in a claim situation.

Peter's dispute resolution experience includes litigation support along with expert analysis on issues such as delay, acceleration, inefficiency, differing site conditions, severe weather and change order review. His expert reports and supporting exhibits have been instrumental at numerous mediation and arbitration hearings in obtaining a favorable settlement for his clients.

Prior to joining Nautilus, Peter was Team Leader in the NYC office of the construction litigation group at URS Corporation where he supported clients by resolving claims and advising on construction projects and related issues. Peter is a Licensed Professional Engineer with a Bachelors Degree in Electrical Engineering and a Masters Degree in Industrial Engineering, both from the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He is also a certified Facilities Management Administrator and a Real Property Administrator.
