ED JOSIAH AUTHORS CHAPTER ON DEMONSTRATIVE EVIDENCE IN NEW BOOK PUBLISHED BY THE ABA FORUM ON CONSTRUCTION

COMMACK, NY – January 6, 2009 – Nautilus is proud to announce that Ed Josiah has authored the ‘Demonstrative Evidence’ chapter of a new book published by the American Bar Association’s Forum on the Construction Industry. The title of the book is CONSTRUCTION CHECKLISTS – A GUIDE TO FREQUENTLY ENCOUNTERED CONSTRUCTION ISSUES.

The construction lawyer regularly faces a wide variety of legal issues, and they have long used checklists as a quick reference tool for drafting contracts, litigation, and providing advice to clients. The ABA Forum on the Construction Industry has drawn on the expertise of its members to present a unique collection of essential checklists that address the wide-ranging aspects of a construction practice. This book contains more than 70 checklists, including Ed’s chapter on Demonstrative Evidence. Each checklist has been developed to solve a practical need often encountered by the construction attorney. Checklist topics in this book include:

- Design
- Insurance
- Surety law
- International Transactions
- Litigation issues, including discovery, opening statements and closing arguments
- Contract administration
- Labor and employment law
- Government contracting
- Bankruptcy
- False claims

Ed manages Nautilus’ demonstrative evidence and graphics division, where he is responsible for all demonstrative evidence including the design, development and production of scale models, 2D, 3D and 4D animation, information design, diagrams, multimedia presentations, and graphic illustrations. He is also the graphics consultant to the American Bar Association’s Forum on the Construction Industry, for which he has designed and developed speaker presentation graphics at more than twenty national Forum meetings. He has been invited on numerous occasions to give lectures to an array of bar associations, law firms, and prominent universities and law schools, and has authored several articles on demonstrative evidence.

A full portfolio of Ed’s work is available upon request, while selected samples along with his many informative articles have been posted on the Nautilus website (www.nautcon.com).
