

Nautilus Consulting - Announcement

Walter Fremer has joined Nautilus

New York, NY - Jan 29, 2007 Nautilus Consulting is pleased to announce that Walter A. Fremer has joined the firm, where he has undertaken the duties of project consultant. Reporting to the New York corporate headquarters, his responsibilities include the management of various engagements in the claims consulting practice as well as providing clients with CPM scheduling support.

Prior to joining Nautilus, Walter was a lead scheduling engineer for Hazen & Sawyer, one of the country's leading environmental engineering firms. While there, Walter was responsible for concurrently overseeing the scheduling program on multiple projects valued in excess of $100 million. This involved the preparation of delay analyses and extension-of-time quantification, as well as providing legal counsel with the information needed to resolve contractor's claims. His experience also includes payment bond claims analysis, construction inspection & construction close-out management.

Nautilus is a national construction consulting firm, specializing its practice in construction claims analysis and associated damage calculation. With a strong emphasis on utilizing practical and court- tested methodologies, Nautilus has experts capable of analyzing the impact of change, delay, acceleration, inefficiency, damage, and other issues common in a construction dispute.
